Mission:

Open. Visible. Accessible.

Public trust is a critical dynamic of a world-class city. Transparent Denver is the realization of that commitment.

Contained in this site you will find two critical elements:

- Transparency—access to information about what is really happening, and
- Accountability—ways to hold decision-makers accountable for the decisions we make.

These two elements sit at the heart of the work the city does day-in and day-out and significantly contribute to our ongoing commitment to meeting people where they are.
