Mission:

The Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA) enhances the quality of life for residents and visitors by creating partnerships that leverage public funds to generate and support the arts, cultural experiences, and heritage through activities such as programming, marketing and development, grant making, communication, and building relationships with community partners. The public funds include: the City's General Fund; the Los Angeles Endowment for the Arts, a trust fund that provides support for cultural projects with proceeds from the Transient Occupancy Tax; the Arts Development Fee Ordinance, which mandates that arts fees be gathered as mitigation for new construction in the City. A Mayor-appointed Commission serves as an advisory body to the Department.
