Mission:

CityGeo helps departments share data used for mapping, analysis, and city services. Our team of analysts, application developers, and project managers:

Creates applications to analyze and show geographic data.

Performs geographic and statistical analyses for departmental projects.

Publishes much of the geographic data created by city departments as open data.

Coordinates major spatial technology contracts for the City.

Manages large data integrations.

Supports standards for how geographic data is mapped, shared, and managed.
