Mission:

Act No. 115 of June 21, 1968, as amended, known as the Right to Work Act, created the Administration. Reorganization Plan No. 2 of May 4, 1994, reorganized the Department of Labor and Human Resources and assigned the Right to Work Administration to the Department. Combat unemployment in Puerto Rico by promoting human resources development through the establishment of an integrated services system where our workforce has universal access to guidance services, labor market information, skills assessment, counseling, referrals to training and education programs, job placement and retention, and integrating the business sector.
